Miller Waste Systems is a leader in total waste management, providing municipalities and industry with a wide range of services including: waste audits, collection of waste and recycling material from residential, commercial and institutional facilities, and the operation of waste transfer stations, material recovery and compost facilities.

Applying advanced technologies, Miller's material recovery facilities sort, process recyclables, and then transport products to end-market customers.

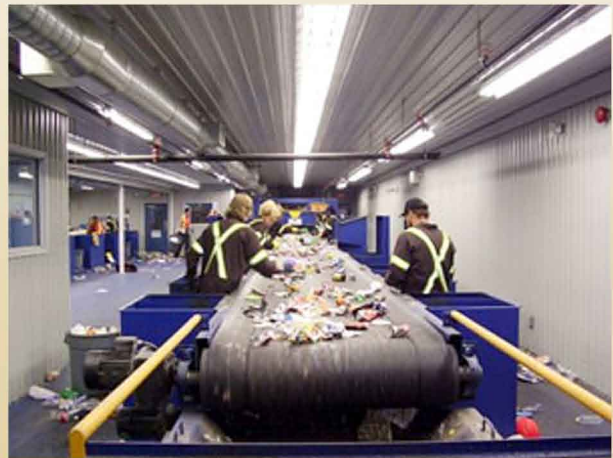

Miller satisfies clients by assuring that their recyclable waste is not only diverted from landfills but sold and remanufactured into consumable products.

Miller Waste Systems has an extensive end-market network which it uses to ensure that its clients receive the best return for their recyclables. Also, by operating several material recovery facilities, Miller is a major supplier of secondary material in the commodity marketplace.

Material recovery facilities benefit everyone by diverting waste from landfills. In addition, Miller's customers can share in the revenue generated by the sale of recyclable materials, leading to financial savings.

Miller Waste Systems designs and operates state of the art material recovery facilities.
