

Road Construction

WWW.MILLERGROUP.CA

Since its formation in 1917, Miller's reputation has been based on road building. Miller has participated in many of the major projects during the great road building boom of the mid-20th century including the Alaska Highway. Miller's reputation continues today with the construction and reconstruction of roads and highways across Canada and throughout the Southeastern United States.

Miller, through its many different sectors, is able to supply all materials, labour, and equipment needed for construction. Controlling all aspects of the construction internally results in tighter control on quality and a better product for the customer.

Miller's experience is not just limited to asphalt and concrete paving and the aggregate sub-base. Miller also performs the majority of the associated works such as: watermains, sewers, culvert repairs, earthworks, concrete sidewalks, and curb and gutter.

All projects are coordinated through the corporate head office in Markham and distributed to the appropriate regional office shown on the back of this sheet.
